Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine for Wellness and Treatment of Illness, Injury and Infertility

Presented by Stephanie Macey, RN, MSOM

Many people have heard that acupuncture works for different ailments, but are skeptical about the effectiveness of acupuncture and wonder if the treatments are painful. Stephanie will discuss:

1. What Chinese Medicine is and what to expect at an initial consultation
2. How acupuncture treatments feel
3. The benefits of acupuncture and herbal therapy

There will be a live demonstration of an acupuncture treatment and the option of trying one needle.

Saturday, October 9, 2010 11am - 12pm
Snacks & Refreshments Provided

Stephanie is an acupuncturist who holds a master of science in Oriental Medicine from the Midwest College of Oriental Medicine. She has also been a practicing nurse for 17 years and received her BSN from the University of Michigan.
